

Looks Like Hughes

But Democrats Say Wilson Still Has A Chance

Vote Very Close In Many States

THE LATEST.

2:30 A. M., Nov. 8.
To Interior Journal, Stanford.
Washington, Oregon, California and West Virginia apparently hold the balance of power in the Presidential race, with the issue very doubtful. The House and Senate are apparently Democratic.

Courier-Journal News Bureau.

Wednesday, 1:30 a. m., Nov. 8.
Latest dispatches from Louisville and Cincinnati to the I. J., indicate that the race for the Presidency is very close between Wilson and Hughes with the odds decidedly in favor of Hughes. The Republican National Committee is claiming Hughes' election with 320 electoral votes. Vance McCormack, Democratic National Chairman, however, refuses to concede the election of Hughes and claims that Wilson has won.

Returns were very hard to obtain from any of the doubtful states up to an early hour. While it is acknowledged that Hughes has carried New York, Indiana and Illinois are claimed by both sides, but with the chances favoring Hughes. The Democratic leaders say that Wilson has shown surprising strength in the western states and that he will show up with enough votes in them to pull him through.

However, all indications point to the election of Hughes as the next president, though the complete vote from the states which are missing may cause a change. Wilson showed unexpected strength in such states as Kansas and California and may have a chance to carry both when full returns are in.

EARLY BULLETINS

Republicans claim Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, New Hampshire, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and California making a total of 254 electoral votes.

Nobles and Kansas give Wilson good margin in early returns. New York's majority for Hughes will be about 65,000.

About one-third of precincts in Indianapolis give Hughes lead of 300 in city.

Indications point to Illinois being in the Hughes column.

Republican national headquarters claim Hughes elected and the next House, republican.

Boston gives small Democratic majority.

Texas came in with usual 150,000 Democratic majority.

Hughes carried Iowa by 50,000.

Early returns indicate that Democrats win in Utah and defeat Senator Southerland, Republican.

Early returns give Wilson lead in Colorado.

Partial count in Los Angeles, Cal., give Wilson big lead.

Both sides claim state of Wyoming which appears Republican.

Jamestown, N. Y., gives Wilson 4,526, and Hughes 1,835.

Leavenworth, Kan., incomplete returns show Wilson running ahead of Hughes.

About one-tenth of New York precincts outside of Greater New York give Seabury, Democrat, 6,000 majority over Whitman, Republican, for governor.

Meager returns from Boston, give Wilson lead of 8,000 over Hughes.

With half precincts reported Wilson has majority of about 26,000 in New York City.

Official News Service in Chicago estimates Dunne, Democrat, will sweep Chicago, by 12,000 in governor's race.

Early returns show that the solid South has returned its usual strong majority for Democratic ticket.

The first returns show that the Democrats have elected a Congressman, at Toledo, O.

Indiana is very close with Democrats confident. In early reports Senator Tom Taggart is leading. President Wilson and other Democrats.

With a majority of counties heard from, Wilson still holds lead in Kansas.

About three-fourths of New York City precincts give Wilson lead of 35,000.

Later returns from Chicago indicate republican victory in the Illinois metropol.

Early reports from Cincinnati, the German Republican stronghold, indicate Wilson victory.

Scattering returns from Maine give Wilson lead of 2,000. Maine was swept by the Republicans in September.

Early returns from states where the split of the Republicans and Pro-

Look At Lincoln

MAGNIFICENT MAJORITY FOR WILSON AND HELM

Republicans Are Snowed Under Here By Splendid Majority of 336 Votes.

If all the rest of the country had acquitted itself as well as old Lincoln, there would have been nothing to it but Wilson everywhere. The largest democratic vote ever polled in a presidential race and almost a record breaker from a democratic standpoint was polled Tuesday and Wilson carried the county by 336 votes, a splendid majority. When it is recalled that Wilson's majority over the combined Taft and Roosevelt vote in this county in 1912 was less than 50, it will easily be seen what a splendid race the President ran here. In every precinct in the county the democratic vote showed a tremendous gain, except at Highland, where the republicans made their sole gain in the county. Few county races, where the most excitement is usually found in an election, ever caused as much interest as this presidential race.

Congressman Harvey Helm ran right along with the president in the county and if anything, perhaps will exceed his vote slightly when the official returns are in.

The largest vote for a Socialist candidate ever polled in this county was cast for Benson, the Socialist candidate for president at Rowland, where he got 29 votes.

The unofficial vote of all the precincts in Lincoln county as phoned in to the I. J. office after the polls closed Tuesday afternoon, is as follows:

PRECINCTS—	Wilson	Hughes
Courthouse	220	109
Macksville	175	185
Engine House	199	144
Rowland	96	58
Hustonsville No. 1	228	137
Hustonsville No. 2	85	101

Totals	2186	1850

gressives had been marked and which gave the Democrats hope of making big gains, indicate a rather complete amalgamation of the two factions.

Early indications give Hughes the State of New York by 125,000 to 170,000.

The first three counties in Kentucky to report, Woodford, Montgomery and Carroll, gave increased democratic majorities.

On the early returns from Kansas, a victory for Hughes at greatly decreased republican majority, is indicated.

Reports from all counties in Kentucky show that President Wilson carried the state by 24,000.

Claims put out by the Republican headquarters in New York at midnight, included only 254 votes. However, they declared enough electoral votes would be received. It looks mighty close.

Illinois and Indiana have failed to indicate just how they will go. Both sides claim them, but Hughes, apparently, has a safe lead.

Western states have shown much more strength for Wilson than believed possible, and may turn the tide.

The Sixth Congressional district gave Wilson a majority of 10,000 over Hughes.

All present Kentucky Congressmen re-elected. Rouse of the Sixth district got biggest majority according to present reports.

Meager returns from St. Louis give Wilson lead over Hughes and Wilson still leads in Cincinnati. Returns indicate that both have heavy German vote.

Two-thirds of precincts out side of City of New York, give Hughes lead of 100,000.

Three hundred fifty-two precincts in Massachusetts, including nearly all those in Boston, give Wilson a lead of 100,000.

At 10 o'clock last night, the states where little information has come from the election of the next president list the doubtful states are: Illinois, Idaho, Indiana, Maine, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Nevada, Michigan and West Virginia.

Wilson leads by 10,352 in Missouri with 1,234 out of 3469 precincts, only 131 out of 500 in St. Louis, being counted.

Fifty-four out of 198 precincts in Minneapolis gives Wilson 10,252 and Hughes 7,163 votes. The governor of Minnesota was re-elected by less than one-half of Wilson's.

Pittsburg gives Hughes more than 6,000 majority.

Wilson carried Oklahoma by 8,000 Montana with 300 out of 1239 precincts heard from give Wilson a majority of 4,500.

N. Mexico with six precincts missing, give Wilson 338, Hughes 236.

24,000 in Kentucky

SPLENDID OLD-TIME MAJORITY FOR DEMOCRACY

Helm Wins By Over 3,500 and All Counties of Eighth District
Show Up Fine.

And there stood old Kentucky, returned to an old-time Democratic majority, which the Courier-Journal early Wednesday morning said would be 24,000 for Wilson. Notwithstanding the falling off of Louisville and Jefferson county, which only returned a majority for Wilson of about 500, other districts did their part nobly, and a splendid majority was rolled up.

Helm An Easy Winner.

Congressman Harvey Helm was returned to the lower House from the Eighth district by a majority which is over 3,500, and may go larger than the official vote is in. Every county in the Eighth district showed up with an increased democratic majority.

The palm must be awarded to Congressman Arthur Rouse's 6th district however, which showed up surprisingly well with 10,000 majority, the greatest it has ever given in its history. Rouse is a splendid fellow in every way and deserves a large part of the credit for this fine work.

All of the nine democratic congressmen from Kentucky are re-elected and the republicans are well from the tenth and eleventh districts. The vote by counties as far as the I. J. could obtain it by wire up to 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, was as follows.

SPLENDID MEETING

HELD HERE LAST SATURDAY BY WOMAN'S CLUBS

Members From Over the Eighth District Hospitably Entertained by the Local Ladies.

Renewed enthusiasm in the great work which the federation of women's clubs is doing all over the state was given to club members of the Eighth Congressional District, at the district meeting held in Stanford, Saturday, November 4th. The District organization met as the guests of the Woman's Club of Stanford, young in years of service, but one of the most active and enthusiastic, in any small town in the state and with a magnificent record of accomplishment during its short life of two and a half years. The local organization did all in its power to make the short stay of its visitors pleasant and profitable. The members co-operated beautifully along all lines; committees greeted the guests on arrival and saw to it at the luncheon hour that all were entertained in delightful style. Their guests were profuse in their compliments of the entertainment provided.

The day was a beautiful one and an unusually large attendance resulted, the parking of the scores of cars about the courthouse, where the sessions were held, attracting a great deal of attention. The meetings were open to the public and many of the "sterner sex" were present, and all were greatly impressed and had many words of commendation, not only for the systematic organization and procedure of the convention, but for the spirit which was so plainly manifested, a spirit of unselfish devotion for the good of mankind and womankind, a spirit of looking to the uplift of the home, and the community at large. Quite a number of the men declared that they had obtained a new idea of the work which the Woman's Clubs are doing, and now stand ready to co-operate in whatever way may be possible toward furthering the scope and broadening the field of usefulness of such enthusiastic and unselfish laborers for the common good.

Mrs. J. Q. A. McDowell of Danville, District Chairman, presided over the convention with consummate grace and dignity and in fact made an ideal presiding officer.

Mrs. R. L. Elkin, of Lancaster, acted as Secretary in an entirely capable manner.

After the invocation by Rev. P. L. Bruce, of the Presbyterian church, a cordial welcome was extended to the visitors on behalf of the Stanford Woman's Club by Mrs. W. C. Wilson. Mrs. Rouse's remarks were short but to the point, and it was a gracious hospitality which she extended on behalf of the city and its woman's organization. To this, Mrs. Preston Cornelius, of Berea, responded, on behalf of the visitors, giving assurance of their pleasure at thus assembling in this pretty little city and expressing appreciation of the cordiality of the welcome extended.

Upon entering into the formal program, Miss Amanda Rodes, of Danville, spoke on Conservation and the part that the Woman's Clubs are taking in this now much discussed subject. She told of the National park, and to secure its purchase for such purpose by the government. Efforts toward this have so far failed, but it is hoped that some public spirited Kentuckian with the necessary means, will be found who will purchase this great natural wonder, and hold it as in trust until a tardy government can be brought to see the wisdom of holding this great natural phenomenon as a public preserve, exactly as is done with Yellowstone Park and other government parks, etc.

The important part which the library plays in the work of a successful Woman's Club was dwelt upon extensively and entertainingly by Miss Fannie Rawson. One of the "traveling libraries" which is sent out under the auspices of the State Library Commission, represented by Miss Rawson, was exhibited at the meeting and she told of the interest it had awakened wherever it had been sent. One of the features of the work of the Stanford Woman's Club, it may be stated, has been the establishment of its free public library. This has been one of the most appreciated departments of the club work here, at all times.

New ideas were given the delegates present of the part which the members of Woman's Clubs can play in the development and extension of the educational facilities of the state by Mrs. Charles P. Weaver, of Louisville. Her subject took a wide range, all of which she covered with thoroughness and understanding. She urged that it is proper that the public be kept or educated through the press as to what the Woman's Clubs are doing.

In the place of Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Smith, who recently lost her husband, Mrs. Will Lillard, of Lawrenceburg, spoke on the subject of "Suffrage," which is becoming such an important question before the American people today, and is rapidly being made in many quarters a momentous issue in the life of the Woman's Clubs' organizations. Mrs. Lillard is familiar with the subject and presented it to many in a new light.

Greeting from the State Federation to the Eighth District organization was then extended by Mrs. Lafon Riker, of Harrodsburg, in the place of Mrs. Morris Bartlett, of Lawrenceburg, who so recently lost her father, Judge D. L. Moore, of Mercer county, and now has been doubly bereaved by the death of her husband, since this convention was held. Mrs. Riker is a charming speaker and had many pleasant things to say to the club members of the Eighth district, whose good work, she assured them is indeed appreciated by the larger organization, the State Federation, of which the district body is an integral part.

Dean Mary E. Sweeney, of the Domestic Science Department of State University, Lexington, closed the morning program, with a splendid address on Domestic Science, which was indeed appreciated by all. Dean Sweeney always reaches the heart of her hearers and she gave them much to think about before she concluded.

Adjournment was taken at the noon hour until near two o'clock while the visitors partook of a delightful luncheon provided for them by their hostesses and served at the Princess, an attractive little restaurant. The election of officers for the next biennial term was gone into after the convention had reconvened. Mrs. H. E. Taylor, of Berea, was chosen District Chairman with Mrs. Preston Cornelius, also of Berea, Secretary. Both nominations and elections were by acclamation, as it was Berea's time for the honors, under the usual system of rotation among the various clubs of the district.

The subject of Music and its part in the work of the clubs was ably handled by Mrs. James D. Shelby, of Danville, who is both an experienced and talented musician and gifted in the art of imparting her knowledge to others.

Mrs. A. F. Harrison, of Lexington then spoke on Social Hygiene and told of the great work which has been done in Lexington and other cities to improve the conditions. Mrs. Harrison is an eloquent and convincing speaker, and handled her subject well indeed.

Little Oma Simpson, the 12-year-old deaf-blind girl, of the Kentucky School for the Deaf at Danville, who has so almost miraculously been taught to read, write and talk, under the personal tutelage of Miss Sophia Alcorn, of Stanford, her instructor, was introduced to the convention, and aroused the keenest interest. Exhibition was given of the wonderful training which she has received, the method employed in conversation with her, and then, sightless and deaf to all sounds, the little girl recited "My Old Kentucky Home," and there were few dry eyes in the big courtroom when she had concluded.

The concluding address of the day was one of the very best. Miss Lida Woods, secretary to Dr. Ganfield, at Danville, and a former assistant to Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, of the State Literacy Commission, told of the magnificent work which is being done to redeem Kentucky from the curse of illiteracy and ignorance.

Miss Wood, like Mrs. Stewart, is thoroughly in love with the work, and she sketched to the club members the noble part that is theirs to play in the great work yet ahead. She deeply and truly impressed everyone by her splendid address.

Reports read from the various clubs over the Eighth district were all unusually satisfactory and indicated that club work is in a remarkably healthy and enthusiastic condition at present. Splendid reports were read from Harrodsburg, Nicholasville, Danville, Junction City, Lawrenceburg, Stanford and Lancaster. Two clubs are organized at Berea, and both are active.

Delegates and visitors who registered from out-of-town were: Mrs. Wm. A. Ganfield, and Miss Lida D. Woods, of Danville; Mrs. G. E. Porter, Berea; Mrs. Chas. A. Hardin, of Harrodsburg; Mrs. James G. Blaine, Mrs. Wm. Tresper, Mrs. J. Walker Bailey, Mrs. Ben D. McGraw, of Junction City; Mrs. Charles P. Weaver, Louisville; Miss Mary E. Sweeney, of Lexington; Mrs. Will Lillard, Lawrenceburg; Mrs. F. Ferrell Grim, Mrs. Alma Felix, Mrs. Spencer, Lawrenceburg; Mrs. James D. Shelby, Mrs. R. Cowan, Miss Amanda Rodes, Mrs. Chas. H. Rodes, Mrs. Henry Meier, Mrs. J. Q. A. McDowell of Danville; Mrs. Wm. H. Johnston, Nicholasville; Mrs. J. B. Kinnaird, of Lancaster; Mrs. E. Burke, Junction City; Mrs. E. Magoffin Hardin, Harrodsburg; Mrs. M. I. Spink, Berea; Mrs. R. E. McRoberts, Lancaster; Mrs. G. A. Curry, Mrs. Lafon Riker, Miss Mayme Vanarsdale, Harrodsburg; Mrs. B. H. Roberts, Berea; Miss Fannie C. Rawson, Frankfort; Mrs. Clay Sutton, Lancaster; Mrs. Joan Mount, Miss Annie Belle Burnside, Mrs. Emma Kaufman, Mrs. R. L. Elkin, Mrs. George Robinson, Mrs. John E. Stormes, Miss Sallie Elkin, Lancaster; Mrs. Frank L. Rainey, Mrs. Mary W. McKinn, Miss S. L. Young, Mrs. W. Logan Wood, Mrs. Banks Hudson, Mrs. J. L. Butler, Mrs. S. J. Glanton, Mrs. C. P. LIQUOR SELLING

JUDGE HARDIN.

Circuit Court Convenes and Strong Charge Is Given the Grand Jury.

The November term of the Lincoln Circuit Court was called to business at 10:30 Monday morning by Deputy Sheriff W. S. Embury, who wound up his impressive prayer with the words: "God loves the honorable judge and the Commonwealth." Judge Hardin was late arriving, having had auto troubles en route. A grand jury was quickly summoned and before 11 o'clock he was delivering his charge. Judge Hardin began by saying that on the way from his automobile to the courthouse he was accosted by three gentlemen, each of whom told him that blind tiger conditions in this county are very bad and that they hoped that something would be done at this term of court to relieve the conditions, which are becoming alarming. The greater portion of the charge was devoted to illegal whisky selling. Said he, "Soft drink stands are frequently used as a blind for selling intoxicants and I wish you gentlemen who compose the jury to use every possible effort to bring to justice the promoters of these enterprises, who are guilty of low infractions." Referring to a "hop joint" conducted in Danville some years ago, Judge Hardin said nearly every criminal brought before him at a certain term of court in Boyle was proven a frequenter of the hop house and nearly all of the crimes committed were directly chargeable to the hop joint, which was later put out of business by a prohibitive license.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months."

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

At all druggists.

OVERCOATS

These frosty mornings remind us that winter is on the way, and we ask ourselves the question, "where is my old overcoat?" "Can I make it do another winter?" The chances are you want a new one, and we want you to see what we have. The style for young men is a medium length, rough or knappy surface goods; to our mind the prettiest young man's coat ever gotten out. As snappy and stylish as a picture, with plenty of color.
Price: $10; $15; $20.

MACKINAWS.

The most popular of all short coats; in rich, loud colors, in Boys' and Men's, at $5, $6.50, $7.50 and $10. We are glad to show you; look at what we have, then buy where you please.

EXPERIENCE OF KENTUCKY WOMAN.

Louisville, Ky.—"I have been much benefited by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When in a run-down, nervous condition I saw 'Favorite Prescription' advertised in the paper. The use of one bottle gave me very marked improvement and I am glad to endorse it. It is a good medicine and seems to be just as advertised."—Mrs. LILLIE ZWEYDORF, 2233 Bank St.

An affection confined to women must have its cause in the womanly nature. There is no doubt that a diseased condition of the delicate womanly organs, is in general responsible for feminine nervousness and an undermined constitution. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes women happy by making them healthy. There are no more crying spells. "Favorite Prescription" is for inflammation and female weakness. It makes weak women strong.

Middle aged women about to experience that dreaded change of life, should profit by the experience of thousands of noble women who have gone through the same period with little or no pain, misery or discomfort.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is and has been for nearly 50 years just the medicine. It is not a secret prescription, for its ingredients are printed on the wrapper; it's a temperance medicine, a glyceric extract from roots.

Get the "Prescription" today—either in liquid or tablet form—if you want to better your physical condition speedily.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate stomach, liver and bowels.

You can have Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser of 1008 pages for 30 cents or three dimes. It treats of Sex, Hygiene, Marriage, Anatomy, Physiology, etc. Address: Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

All Children Love "Syrup of Figs" For Liver And Bowels

Give It When Feverish, Cross, Bilious, For Bad Breath or Sour Stomach

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thoroughly cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative;" they love its delicious taste and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Eat Without Fear Of Indigestion Or Sour, Acid Stomach

Instant Relief. "Pape's Diapiesin" Ends Your Stomach Trouble Forever

Wonder what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapiesin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, do not go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

Emigrants to Hoosierdom, who are just back in their native Casey are congratulating old neighbors who have abandoned Suckerdorn and returned home. Archie McWhorter and family surprised and gladdened kin and old neighbors by moving back from Illinois. A renter came prepared with teams and implements to begin seeding. He accompanied the present disgusted tenant in one of his almost daily excursions to chase roguish hogs from his cornfield and was moved to exclaim "why this field has same as no fence." Coincidentally learning that the landlord had refused to furnish material for a garden fence the tenant proffered to build without further cost to the owner, he mournfully went back to his family and is probably still cussin' his bad luck as the season for sowing has passed and no one here has seen him or heard from him. "Look Pa, How 'Gets-It' Works!"
Lifts Your Corn Right Off. Never Fails.
"Ever in your life see a corn come out like that? Look at the true skin underneath—smooth as the palm of your hand!"

Well Now, Look at That! Off Comes That Pesky Corn as Slick as a Whistle.
The earth is blessed with the one, simple, painless, never-failing remedy that makes millions of corn-pestered people happy, and that's "GETS-IT". Apply it in 3 seconds. It dries, some people jab and dig at their corns with knives and razors—wrap their toes in packages with bandages or sticky tape, make them red and raw with salves. Nothing like this with "GETS-IT". Your corn loosens—you lift it off. There's nothing to press on the corn, or hurt. Angels couldn't ask for more. Try it tonight on any corn, callus or wart. "GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere. See a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Stanford and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by The Lincoln Pharmacy and The Penny Drug Store.

Always Use High Class STATIONERY to Create a Good Impression

The Very Latest Styles

It's an old, old saying that the people you write to often judge you by your stationery. And there is a great deal of truth in the fact that stationery can be so chosen as to reflect the best of judgment and taste.

Stationery suitable for one occasion may be entirely out of place for another. Then, too, the styles in stationery change the same as styles in clothing.

SOMERSET STILL WINNING

The Somerset High School football team easily romped over Tennessee Military Institute, of Sweetwater, Tenn., at Somerset Friday by the score of 95 to 6. The visitors made a touchdown by picking up a fumbled ball. McDonald right tackle of Somerset broke his collar bone in the first period. It looks like a crippled team will face Louisville next Saturday, when Somerset goes after the State High School championship.

ARCH IN ALASKA

IT IS A GREAT COUNTRY AND COMING FAST

Former Stanford Boy Writes of His Recent Trip to Uncle Sam's Northern Possession

Arch A. McKinney, formerly of Stanford, who wrote so interestingly an account of his trip through the west for the I. J. a short time ago, has furnished this paper with an article on his recent visit to Alaska, which is highly interesting and entertaining as well as instructive. Mr. McKinney writes of his trip to the far north, as follows:

Burton Holmes, the traveller expressed it well when he said: "The Yosemite Valley is beautiful. The Yellowstone Park is wonderful. The Canyon of Colorado is colossal. Alaska is all of these." I will quote further from Mr. J. W. Prichett, of the Cordora Daily Times, of Cordora, who told me, in part, "The curtain is just beginning to rise in Alaska and the eyes of the world are at last beginning to look on in wonderment. As everyone in Alaska knows, the country has suffered in consequence of the misconception of people in general on the 'outside.' However, the past three years have seen the dissemination of much reliable information which has somewhat modified the 'ice box' illusions. National sympathy has been won, and Alaska is at last receiving real consideration from the government. It is a pleasure to have travel stained tourists tell us that we have the grandest scenery in the world—that they have visited Switzerland and Norway, and that our mountains, glaciers and the scenery generally, rise by way of comparison like cathedral spires over a village hut, and that Alaska is destined to become the greatest summer resort in America, if not in the world."

I found all of this to be true, also that the mineral resources of the territory have only as yet been scratched, while the agricultural possibilities are yet to be unfolded. Consider for a moment the amazing comparison of purchase and present yield. Purchased from Russia in 1867 for $7,200,000—present value of annual production approximately $80,000,000, and the production from its natural resources, since the purchase, very nearly reaches a total of $590,000,000.

It is about one fifth the size of the United States and the present known fields of coal alone are as extensive as the entire state of Pennsylvania.

The annual gold production yields approximately $16,000,000, while the annual production of the fisheries are approximately $25,000,000. This will give you a better idea of what the future holds forth, when Alaska really comes into its own, especially so when you consider the fact there is 100,000 square miles of arable land and the present population does not exceed 75,000.

My trip was one of pleasure throughout, every moment filled with amazing science beauties, afforded by views of snow capped mountains, glaciers, ice bergs, mountain lakes, etc., all of this with the sun "a shining" and beautiful flowers blooming all about and the mercury, in the thermometer plying between 50 and 60 degrees.

We left San Francisco, June 14th, on S. S. "Queen" arriving at Seattle one day late, account of rough weather and heavy fogs, one of the boats—Steamer Bear—going on the rocks off Northern California coast, just one and one-half miles from us. All passengers were taken off and five were drowned when one of the life boats capsized. Sailed from Seattle 5 P. M., June 2th. All of the first night and next morning was spent passing Vancouver Island, from then through the next night and day the vessel still traversed the wonderful water courses of British Columbia and later crossed the boundary line of British Columbia, Canada and Alaska, U. S. A. Our first stop was Ketchikan, the first American port of entry in Alaska, headquarters for the Prince of Wales Island, nearby and a thriving city of 2,500 population, one of the largest fishing points on the South East coast and the center of the halibut fishing industry. Just back of the town is Ketchikan Creek with its pretty waterfalls. It is here, during the spawning season, from July to September, the salmon swim up stream and leap the Falls to reach the shallow water above. This is an unusual and wonderful sight as the current is swift and the Falls many feet in height. Continuing up the creek and into the gorge is a beautiful walk for three miles up the mountain trail with Big Lake at the summit, a beautiful stretch of water with a hot spring in its center. This walk beggars description, as does the climb of 6,000 feet up snow capped Deer mountain adjoining. It is from here Ketchikan gets its water supply of melted snow. Here is located the first Indian village, where the squaws may be seen wearing the pretty baskets, moccasins and such things to be sold to tourists. You will also see many Totem Poles, carved by the Indians, in many and varied fantastic shapes.

The baseball park of Ketchikan is quite unusual, being under about eight feet of water when the tide is in but when the tide recedes the youngsters may cavort on a dry and sandy diamond. Proceeding north we threaded our way through Wrangell Narrows with its many colorful buoys and beacons to prevent the ships from going on the rocks. Wrangell lies just beyond and is one of Alaska's oldest towns, was settled in 1834 and named after Baron Wrangell of Russia.

Saw my first ice berg, morning of June 30th, near Petersburg, floating majestically alongside our boat, a weird monster prismatically colored by the sun rays. All about as we proceeded through the placid waters of the inside passage were seen salmon canneries along the shore quaint Indian graves, set up on stilts and carved Totem Poles standing in front of Indian hamlets. After passing through such interesting water courses and viewing with delight the

Most Effective Remedy Mother Had Ever Used

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEP-SIN
RELIEVES BABY WHEN OTHER MEDICINES FAILED

There is nothing so necessary to a child's health and comfort as regularity of the bowels. All children are especially susceptible to stomach trouble and any overstrain of the sensitive organs has a tendency to obstruct elimination. This condition is responsible for much of the illness of childhood.

To relieve constipation a mild laxative should be employed. Cathartics and purgatives are violent in their action and should be avoided. Mrs. Alfred DuBois, Mt. Holly, N. J., says Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is without doubt the most effective remedy for constipation she has ever used and that it is the only remedy she could find for her baby. Little Earl was badly constipated during his first year and nothing she tried seemed to help him until she got a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Now he is a fine, strong, healthy boy, and she thanks Dr. Caldwell for it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, free from opiates or narcotic drugs; it acts gently without griping or other discomfort, and appeals to children because of its pleasant taste. Druggists everywhere sell it for fifty cents a bottle and every mother should have it in the house for use whenever occasion arises.

To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes always be sure to ask for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

surprising scenic grandeurs we enter Gastineau channel and proceed direct to Juneau, the capital, and Alaska's largest city.

Opposite Juneau is the thriving town of Douglas, with the great Treadwell mine adjacent, the oldest producer of the north. Here is located the gold stamp mill, the largest of its kind in the world. Just below Juneau is located Thane, where the concentrating mill of Alaska Gastineau gold mine is located, the mine itself reached by one of the world's largest tunnels, cut through the mountain and connecting the mine with the mill.

The scenery near Juneau is entrancing and a walk up Gold Creek will leave an everlasting impression of its beauties. I snapped several good kodak pictures in this vicinity. After a few hours we continued north to Skagway—1,000 miles from Seattle—the town which, in the spring of '98 grew to a city of 15,000 people, of all stations and nationalities—all drawn to the Northland by the lure of the Golden Klondike.

In the early days it was a lawless town, ruled by the iron hand of "Soapy" Smith and his gang of desperadoes. But these days are over. Skagway once the wildest, wickedest town in the world, is now a most orderly city of 1,000 population and by virtue of its wonderful location, in the midst of mountains and glaciers, its beautiful flowers and charming climate, it is rapidly acquiring a most enviable reputation as a tourist resort. Skagway is the southern terminus of the White Pass and Yukon Route and about 19 miles inland the railroad crosses Dead Horse Gulch by a steel cantilever bridge, 215 feet high, the most northerly bridge of its kind in the world. Here the old trail of '98 is well defined. About a mile beyond is White Pass Summit, the International boundary, where the stars and stripes and the Union Jack wave a friendly salute to each other. At this point, in a tiny mountain lake, only 20 miles from the sea, the mighty Yukon river takes its rise and flows for 2,100 miles north and west, crossing and recrossing the Arctic circle, before it finally empties in to the Behring Sea. The railroad continues north to White Horse, where true hospitality is dispensed by Barney McGee, who conducts the leading hotel there. "Barney," as he is called by all Alaskans, was a fellow passenger aboard our boat and is six feet four inches of as fine and typical an Irishman as one will ever meet.

At Skagway we found the leading curio store of Alaska owned by Mrs. Kirmuse. (Kirmuse) such a charming and beautiful lady it is a pleasure to separate oneself from his money in exchange for handsomely carved Ivory Totems, hand woven Indian baskets, seal skin moccasins, native jewelry and such. It is here the summer days really begin to lengthen. In fact, there is practically no night and I experienced considerable trouble getting to bed at all. From about 11 P. M. until 1 o'clock A. M. it is like dusk, the rest of the time you can read a newspaper by the natural lights. Couldn't help but think if I were a native, would prefer the "night shift"—in the summer time.

From Skagway we returned South through Lynn Canal, little thinking the wonders of the South East coast could be equalled but we were to be more than agreeably surprised! to find the South West Alaskan coast afforded even greater wonders in scenic displays and grandeur. Passing through Icy Strait and Cross Sound and after rounding Cape Spencer, the vessel steamed out into the broad Pacific Ocean and we were headed toward South West Alaska. Now we have a beautiful panorama. To the right, spread out before the ball team which received a drubbing in all three games at the hands of the Seward stars, during their sojourn there over the glorious fourth. I believe they managed to put over one run out of a total score of 26. They were received with hoots and jeers and were rather harshly treated by the boys in khaki, who had to remain at the Fort, the news of the team's poor showing having preceded them.

The Alaskans enjoy themselves and dancing and baseball provide the main amusements. While at Juneau I witnessed a ball game that didn't commence to begin until 6:30 P. M., so you see the players can get a lot of practice and are quite proficient. Was quartered at the Cain Hotel in Juneau, as nice an hostelry as one will find anywhere and ate at the famous Spatz Cafe, where had strawberries, grown at Haines, Alaska, so large it would be hard to get more than 12 or 14 in a quart receptacle.

There are about 50 salmon canneries on the South Eastern coasts and many on the South West coast. A salmon cannery, like a rose must be smelled to be appreciated. It is an interesting sight, from the time the fish are pitched from the scow, alongside the wharf, into the runners or escalators, which carry them into the canners, where the whole fish is put into a large machine, automatically adjusting itself to all sizes, cutting off head and tail and splitting the fish from stern to stern. Then into troughs of boiling water, where they are cleaned, cooked, sliced and packed into the cans. You should eat more Alaska salmon. It will cut down the cost of living and there is no more delectable morsel afloat. You folks back home where the only shell fish one can safely tackle is soft boiled eggs, at this season, would surely enjoy the variety of Seattle and Alaska. We have oysters, shrimp, clams, crabs, mountain trout, halibut and salmon of the best and there is one fish that has milder than the Alaskan Black Cod—when barbecued it is a fish fit for the gods.

I had always thought Alaska a land of snow and ice and that summer merely meant a temperature slightly above freezing and where the natives were half civilized, but was agreeably surprised when I found a charming summer climate and the Alaska people of the best, culled from every state of the Union. Many Southerners there and hospitality and courtesy abound on every hand. Patriotism is paramount and I am glad to say Alaskans are all good citizens of the U. S. A. All of the towns are up to date, with daily newspapers, banks, churches, fine hotels and remarkably good stores. Alaskans demand the best of everything and it was an easy matter for me to place my line of water-proof clothing with the leading merchants. Now, Alaskans can get an Alligator brand oiled clothing just the same as it can be had at any point in the States and many foreign countries and will say further that "Uncle Sam" is also getting wise, having recently ordered many thousand garments for the use of the boys on the Mexican border. This is keeping our factories going full tilt, night and day.

When it rains why don't you folks demand and get an Alligator slicker—the kind that Never Leak? They will surely keep you dry. They are both manufactured and sold by Kentuckians—over all the civilized world.

Mr. Prichett told me a good one: An artist, on the "outside" upon making the acquaintance of an old prospector, said: "I am greatly interested in your country. I have recently been reading descriptions of the Northland that have thrilled my soul, and made me long to be there with my brush. I suppose you have seen the midnight sun double back on its track and the scarlet hued sulphurous islets floating in a lake of fire in that mystic region of contrast and charm where sunlight and shadow are wed, and silent snow fields lie sleeping where the feet of fairies may have danced."

"No," replied the Sourdough, shortly, "Alaska 'hootch' don't work that way."

Perhaps some of our Hustonville friends after the town went dry, shipped their supply of "squirrel" brand, always much in evidence there during fair time in days of yore, up there and this old chap had gotten hold of some of it. According to my recollection it left anything but such a rosyate aftermath as that depicted by the artist. However, and be that as it may, you can now get the popular Kentucky brands in Alaska at no greater cost than you would pay in the first class bars of Louisville and at a far less cost in Seattle, Portland or Denver, but Alaska and whisky do not mix well. The fellow who really succeed up there are the tee-totalers. I suppose this is due to the fact that one never perspires freely in Alaska and the poisons accumulating after excessive drinking are too great a tax on the system.

At present Alaska needs system of capital and brains to aid in the development of its wonderful resources. To such men are offered great returns on their money and a lengthened life afforded by the bracing and invigorating climate. When you have visited and seen the great Northwest go to Alaska. You can make the trip from Seattle to Skagway and return in ten days at no greater cost than for a similar sojourn at one of the leading hotels in the larger cities of the States. This trip will take you through the famous inside passage of the Southeast coast, where you will be amazed at the beauties, and include a trip to Sitka, the old Russian capital of Alaska, with its thousand islands all about and Seven Sisters mountains for a back ground. You will also see Taku Glacier, one of the Alaskan live glaciers—200 feet high and a mile wide. Many of the boats will stop at Haines and Fort Wm. H. Seward, just south of Skagway. This land of mystery and silence in the far but not frozen north will please you. I like it so well an going back—each year hereafter I hope.

If contemplating the trip write Messrs. G. F. Henrioud or L. I. Morrison, Seattle representatives of The Alaska Steamship Co., No. 707, 2nd,

Mother's Remedy For Bruises

Children's Bumps, Sprains And Minor Hurts Quickly Relieved
By Sloan's Liniment

It is the very nature of children to hurt themselves—to come crying to mother with little fingers bruised, with heads banded, with sprained ankles and wrists.

They are painful hurts, too. But their pain and sting can't survive the gentle use of this liniment. A single application of Sloan's Liniment and—the little fellows bravely kept back tears give way to smiles. His hurt is relieved.

In every home where there are children a bottle of Sloan's Liniment is a necessity.

Aching muscles, rheumatism, lumbago, stiff neck, backache, chilblains, etc., can be effectively relieved with Sloan's Liniment. Cleaner than musky ointments or plasters.

Sloan's Liniment can be obtained at all drug stores, 25c., 50c and $1.00. Most Effective Remedy Mother Had Ever used.

KILLS PAIN

Ave, Seattle, Wash., who will gladly furnish you with folders and information concerning the land of gold and midnight sun. When in Seattle be sure and call on these pleasant gentlemen. You will find their offices fitted up in true Alaskan style. Many interesting Alaskan pictures, totem poles and walrus heads, etc. If in a hurry call on Stanford's accommodating ticket agent, Mr. Joe S. Rice, who can fix you up all the way, via Frisco, with a stop over at Seattle, on to Alaska and return home.

I traveled on three boats of as many lines—S. S. Alameda of the Alaska Steamship Co., S. S. Admiral Watson, of the Admiral S. S. Line and S. S. City of Seattle of The Pacific Coast S. S. Co. All of these boats are up to date in their equipment and the cuisine of the Alameda, especially, is not surpassed by our best hotels. Fearing a tie up of some of the west coast boats, on account of the longshoremen's strike still in evidence on the Pacific coast, I remained on the good ship Alameda all to the Anchorage and the return to Juneau and became well acquainted with all of the officers and the crew. Capt. Frank W. Clinger, of the Alameda, is a fine fellow as is that ever young man Joe Large, the Purser, who gave me a lot of useful information and provided me with a fine stateroom, with interesting neighbors, one a brunette from Boston, the other a blonde from Seattle, both quite learned and charming young ladies. It was not necessary for the cabin boy with the Chinese gong to awaken me as they pounded so vigorously on the intervening partition, was always forced to get up early, long before breakfast. John E. Thwaites besides being an excellent mail clerk and one of the best known men of the far north, is an expert photographer, having made hundreds of unusual pictures, some of which I was lucky enough to secure. Freight Clerk Al Long and his assistant Mr. Proctor kept me well entertained with their many experiences. Also met many pleasing and interesting tourists from Maine to Texas, with a liberal quota from Washington and California.

South from Juneau we stopped at Petersburg, where is located the large salmon cannery owned by the Petersburg Packing Company, and loaded several thousand boxes of canned salmon. After leaving Ketchikan we put in at Prince Rupert, a Canadian city and the terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. From there we proceeded on to Seattle with no unusual incident until we reached Seymour Narrows, the narrowest stretch of water between the mainland of British Columbia and Vancouver Island. It is so narrow when the tide is at its height the water rushes through with great velocity and it is necessary to await the slack of the tide before passing through. Our captain was anxious to get in on time and attempted to buck the tide. Although we had up full stream 14 knots an hour, we made no progress for three hours, with an occasional whirl about of the boat, all of this at midnight with the moon only peering out occasionally from behind the clouds.

Forget Your Aches.

Stiff knees, aching limbs, lame back make life a burden. If you suffer from rheumatism, gout, lumbago, neuralgia, get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment, the universal remedy for pain. Easy to apply; it penetrates without rubbing and soothes the tender flesh. Cleaner and more effective than musky ointments or poultices. For strains or sprains, sore muscles or wrenched ligaments resulting from strenuous exercise, Sloan's Liniment gives quick relief. Keep it on hand for emergencies. At your Druggists, 25c.

For Winter Colds

You need a real tonic. Strength is required to overcome the trouble. Let that tonic be one that is specially valuable in catarrhal conditions, and you can conquer the cold. A cold is acute catarrh; it may become chronic. Chronic catarrh frequently becomes systemic, involving the stomach and the intestinal tract as well as the nose or throat. It means stagnation.

PERUNA IS INVIGORATION

It cleans away the waste matter, dispels the inflammation and tones up the system. For forty-five years it has been used in catarrh by thousands of grateful sufferers, who willingly tell the world of their relief. Peruna's long history of helpfulness is the best evidence that it is what you should take.

Liquid or tablet form for your convenience. Manalin is the ideal laxative and liver tonic. In tablet form it is delicious to take, mild and effective, without unpleasant effects and will not form a habit. Liquid, 35c and $1.00; tablets, 10c and 25c.

ROBINSON'S

VICTIMS OF SELF POISON ARE MANY

95 Per Cent of Illness Due to Auto-Toxication.

WORLD'S SCIENTISTS AGREE

Health Expert Who is Creating Excitement in Cincinnati by New Theories and Results With Modern Treatment Tells Terrors of "Intestinal Toxemia."

Cincinnati, O.—Ninety-five per cent of all ill health is directly or indirectly due to "intestinal toxemia," or, more commonly, just plain stomach and bowel trouble. It is a form of self-poisoning.

This statement was made here by the "Tanlac Health Expert," who has been creating much excitement by the remarkable results he is securing with a new medicinal treatment. He continued:

"When I say that 95 per cent of all human diseases, chronic and local, are directly due to mal-assimilation of food and fermentation in the intestinal tract I am not merely expressing a theory of my own, but I am propound-ing a fact that is agreed upon by the world's greatest medical and bacteriological scientists, of whom the famous Professor Metchnikoff, of the Pasteur Institute of Paris, is the leader.

"Intestinal toxemia, as the medical text-books call it, is the resultant of auto-toxication—self-poisoning. It is caused by food rotting in the stomach and intestines, due to improper action of these organs and the presence of putrefactive bacteria. I quote the following symptoms of this ailment from a world-famous physician, as published in a leading medical journal:

"Sallow, bloodless, or ashy-gray,
muddy complexion; foul, fecal, odorous breath; cold, clammy, moist hands and feet; headaches; malaise (dizziness); total lack of ambition, so that every effort in life is a burden; mental depression often bordering on mel-ancholia; frequent attacks of indefinite abdominal pains due to flatulency;
sudden attacks of acute diarrhea,
alternating with periods of constipation."

"Medical books are jammed to overflowing with descriptions of ailments resulting from intestinal toxemia.

"Tanlac, the wonderful medicine I am introducing, was designed to overcome this condition with the kind of medicine that long usage has proved is safest for the human system—a soothing, effective combination of roots, herbs, barks and berries gathered from all over the world. That is the secret of its success in so many cases with varying surface symptoms.
Tanlac does not treat stomach trouble,
rheumatism, catarrh and such ailments by direct action—it goes right to the root of the trouble and removes the cause—faulty assimilation of food in the stomach and fermentation in the bowels."

Tanlac is sold exclusively in Stanford at The Penny Drug Store, E. R.
Coleman, proprietor.

Tanlac can now be obtained in following nearby cities: Moreland, Abraham Minks; Hustonville, Adams Bros.; McKinney, True & Co.; Ellis-
burg, W. C. Bryant; Crab Orchard, Lyne Bros.; Brodhead, John Robbins; Lancaster, R. E. McRoberts;

Baughman, of Moreland at $100.

Simon Weil, of Lexington, received
40 cattle last week from Duerson Brothers, of Mt. Sterling, which he purchased several weeks ago at 7
3-4 cents. The cattle weighed over 1,200 pounds. Mr. Weil also received a bunch from Henry C. Prewitt, also purchased some time ago.

Fire which started on the farm of Mrs. Sallie B. Hedges, between Talbot and Kiser in Bourbon county, burned over an area of 75 acres of grass. Farmers and hired men fought the fire the entire afternoon before it was finally extinguished. A number of small buildings and considerable fencing was burned.
